SC stops E-VAT collection

Prices of oil, other goods, services have to be rolled back

By GMA News and Public Affairs

MANILA—The Supreme Court has ordered the Department of Finance to stop collecting the 12% value-added tax (VAT) on electricity, oil, and other goods and services. The court's decision is a landmark ruling that will have a significant impact on the Philippine economy.

The court's decision is based on the fact that the 12% VAT on electricity, oil, and other goods and services is a violation of the 1987 Constitution, which prohibits the collection of taxes on essential goods and services.

The court's decision is a landmark ruling that will have a significant impact on the Philippine economy. It will result in a rollback of prices for electricity, oil, and other goods and services, which will benefit consumers and businesses alike.

THE TRUTH SHALL SET US FREE

ITEM NO. 1

The fact that an employee of KPNBC has been accused of a crime does not by itself mean that the entire management is tainted by guilt. We have previously reported to the members of the Board of KPNBC the entire possibly questionable transaction.

ITEM NO. 2

I subsequently have received the allegation that I gave a TV set to Mr. J. Edgar Hoover. The records of the radio base I filed with the Market Researcher's Office will readily show that the person I used referred in such alleged to deliver to the jewelry which I subsequently gave to my daughter was a gift and for which I fully paid for. Records will also show that an insurance settlement was reached with the corresponding company from the other party, and the entire was used to purchase an additional television.

The entire transaction was recorded in the minutes of the meeting of the Board of KPNBC.

ITEM NO. 3

Conformably to E.O. 272, the National Insurance Corporation of the SWS has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 17, 2004, subject to submission of other requirements.

Again, the allegation that I gave a television set to the company is a violation of E.O. 272, and the entire is a violation of E.O. 272.

CONCLUSION

Since I accepted the presidency of the SWS in October 1998, the undersigned has been responsible in handling around the financial state of the said government corporation, including the issuance of a statement on that resulted to the loss of P10.5 billion worth of the agency's non-performing loan portfolios.

Most importantly are the reforms that the undersigned has initiated to streamline and safeguard government operations and government funds.

On 12 June 2008, the Journal of the American Medical Association published a study by the University of Michigan Health System that found that patients with chronic kidney disease (CKD) who were prescribed statins had a 50% lower risk of death compared to those who were not prescribed statins. The study was a retrospective analysis of data from the National Health and Medical Research Council's Australian Diabetes, Obesity and Lifestyle Study (AusDiab), a large, population-based study of the health and lifestyle of Australian adults. The study included 4,741 participants with CKD, of whom 1,111 were prescribed statins. The researchers found that patients prescribed statins had a 50% lower risk of death compared to those not prescribed statins, after adjusting for age, sex, and other factors. The researchers concluded that statin therapy may be beneficial for patients with CKD, and that further research is needed to confirm these findings.
